A Fairy Tale
in 2 Acts

In one of the best scenes of the delightful children's production, "Snow White and Rose Red," by Ottawa author, Jean Feather, presented by the Kanata Theatre Group, the grumpy gnome, Craig Moore, is helped to release his board by, Snow White (1) Dinah Fajrajai and Rose Red (1) Sheri Knight.

Shown here are the woodcutter, played by Ian Freedman, (the Standard's cartoonist), the handsome prince, Brian McLaughlin and the sturdy soldier, Peter Williams.

Wally, (1) Judy Armstrong, and Chip (1) Sarah Gilliland, the two "naughty" squirrels in the opening scene of "Snow White and Rose Red". The make-up, music and lighting were effective additions to this production which was obviously enjoyed by the capacity audience.
